Self-Contained Portable Shooting Lab

Features

CyberNational's portable shooting lab is intended for those applications where existing space is at a premium. Our portable lab may be used as temporary space until construction of permanent facilities is complete, or as a permanent, self-contained facility.

It is available as an insulated 8' x 8' x 20' ( or 40') steel container and is equipped with electrical, lighting, ventilation, air conditioning/heating, ammunition cabinet and telephone connection. The 40' configuration may also be equipped with office and/or lab benches for microscopes, bookshelves, IBIS/NIBN equipment, etc. Shipped complete and operational, you simply provide 208/240 VAC @ 60 amps, water and drain connection (if required.)
